October 2016

October Meeting

A lovely workshop creating circular landscapes (more of that later) and another well attended meeting with plenty of works in progress.

Next Meeting

A working meeting except for those members lucky enough to have signed up for a repeat of the dyeing workshop run by Janet Haines. We are maybe just a little late for Halloween, but who knows what Janet and her fellow dyers will be cooking up in the kitchen cauldrons!

Stars, stars and more stars

With just over a month to go before the Ebor Ruggers Christmas Extravaganza (or working meeting with added food). We hope those Christmas stars are well on their way. Would love to take credit for the above but the truth is it was created by an experienced American textile artist. Don't forget, the stars are for us to share our fabulous ideas and creations but are yours to keep for your own decorations or as presents to family and friends.

Circular Woven Workshop with Rebellious Rags.

In Progress

What we are aiming for.

For the lucky few who joined in with this workshop, a fun day with the lovely Lynda Kinnard.

After choosing our seasonal theme we all set about our creations, selecting from a huge range of artisan type yarns in many and varied colours. Although supplied with excellent instructions, Lynda's help was invaluable in ensuring the best effects could be achieved. The day ended with a tutorial in finishing techniques and we all went off home with a stash of yarns and our homework tasks.

Looking forward to seeing those completed projects.

If you are interested in further workshops of this type, don't forget to say so in the questionnaire attached last month.

Any suggestions of tutors/workshops would be gratefully received by the committee. We are always on the lookout for new and different activities for the group.

City Screen Exhibition

The City Screen exhibition is just around the corner.

27th November - 7th December.

All items for display and/or sale should be given to Angela at the next meeting at the latest. We have a lovely space in the downstairs café area with a brick background. The café is very popular so it is a great chance to show our work to a large audience.

After the screening of Yarn a few weeks ago, (a spectacular and fun exploration of the wilder side of knitted and crocheted art) Angela, Francis and I muscled our way through the Café diners to get a close up view of the exhibition area.

It will be a great chance to show off our work to a vast number of people, visitors and locals alike.

A Rug from 1943.

At the Great Yorkshire Show, back in the summer, Heather Lamborn had a chat with a man who turned out to have this rug from the USSR. Amazing what is hidden in those cupboards!
